OLNEY’S DEMAND—
Murder of an American in Salvador to be Investigated.

(By Associated Press Wire)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Robert Bonney, an American citizen, was murdered in Salvador on March 28, and as a result the State Department has demanded an investigation. The case was brought to the attention of the United States officials by Congressman Marsh of Illinois, who had received a letter from Circuit Judge Bonney of Quincy, Ill., saying his nephew, Robert Bonney, was engaged in business near Sonsonate, Salvador, and the statement had reached him that his nephew had been killed. Judge Bonney requested Mr. Marsh to look into the matter.

The latter immediately presented the facts to Secretary Olney, who called on the United States Consul at San Salvador for his knowledge of the affair.

The Consul, Secretary Olney, Mr. Marsh, to day received a copy of a telegram from Consul Murphy at San Salvador, which reads: “Bonney shot March 28. Found dead near Sonsonate. Parties unknown. Supposed object robbery. Thorough investigation demanded.”

J. C. OLIVER,
Notary Public in and for Los Angeles County,
State of California.

NOTE.—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above aggregate, 128,410 copies, is not by any means the average for the week. It would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 21,401 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time.

THE COUNCIL AND THE HARBOR QUESTION.

Today it is expected that the City Council will take some action in regard to the motion which was rushed through that body on Monday last, favoring the acceptance of the ignominious compromise which certain persons, acting in the interest of the Southern Pacific Company, are endeavoring to force upon our people.

The members of the Council know well that in passing this resolution they were acting in direct opposition to the wishes of nine-tenths of the citizens. It was a direct slap in the face of their constituents, to whom they owe their election to office, and whom they are supposed to represent.

This insult cannot be allowed to go unregarded or unremedied. The resolution has been sent out by those who procured its passage, as the expression of opinion of the city government of Los Angeles, which it is not. The resolution was rushed through by a trick, and a majority of the Councilmen express their disapproval of it. It is their duty, as well as their interest, to see that the matter is taken up in today's session and the evil that was worked on Monday last is undone, as far as that is possible. The Council, in this action, has outraged the citizens of Los Angeles, and the citizens now demand, as they have a right to demand, that members shall show how they stand on the question.

It will not be sufficient that the matter shall be glossed over, or the action of the Council left to stand as it is, with perhaps a weak apology. Members must place themselves clearly on record, and either avow or disclaim their approval of a resolution that was adopted for the purpose of being telegraphed to Washington to give aid and comfort to those who are fighting against the interests of the people of Los Angeles. Nothing less than this will satisfy our citizens—nothing less should satisfy them.

Moreover, until a denial has been made citizens will be justified in concluding that Parker, the Mayor's clerk, who worked this trick, did so with the knowledge and approval of his superior. If this is not so, Mr. Rader should lose no time in placing the responsibility where it belongs. Why was this telegram sent to Washington by the Mayor's clerk instead of by the City Clerk who is also Clerk of the Council? (Copy of telegram.)

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) April 6, 1896.
Senator S. M. White, Senate, Washington, D. C.—A regular resolution of the Los Angeles City Council, held this 6th day of April, 1896, the following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted: "That the interests of this city demand that harbor facilities we can never and should never urge that the proposed appropriation of three million dollars for San Pedro and Santa Monica harbors be made." (Originally wired to the committees of both Senate and House.)W. F. PARKER, Mayor's clerk.

As a matter of fact, City Clerk Luckenbach refused to forward the foregoing dispatch, or any dispatch, announcing the failed and fraudulent action of the City Council, taken at the instance of "Hizzoner" or "Hizzoner's" hired men. Before the people of Los Angeles get through with this matter, some people may discover that they are not quite so smart as they imagine.

There is but one way in which the City Council can right itself—that is by reversing its action of last Monday, revoking the fraudulently-obtained action, or expunging the misrepresenting resolution from the records.

U. S. GRANT, JR.

The name of Grant is one to conjure with, and if California shows wisdom enough to send the son of his father to the Republican National Convention at St. Louis to represent this great State, it will do a masterly political stroke. That Mr. Grant will be chosen for the State at large The Times does not doubt, for wherever his name has been mentioned in connection with the honor, it has been accorded loud acclaim. Mr. Grant is a strong, independent, positive character, with many of the attributes of his illustrious father, and he will go to St. Louis as the representative of the people, and therefore for the nomination of Maj. McKinley to the high office of President of the United States. The bosses are probably not pleased, because Mr. Grant is not a man they can use, but for that very reason the people will insist upon his selection as one of our representatives at the national convention.

SENATOR WHITE SPEAKS.

The following clear and outspoken statements by Senator White, as wired to the San Francisco Examiner, are reproduced from that journal of Saturday last:

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator White said today in regard to the deep-water harbor project in Los Angeles county:

"I have always favored San Pedro as a harbor site. My preference is not on the part of the people, but the deep harbor I base my preference upon the superior merit of San Pedro, and the evidence upon which I have reached this conclusion is, briefly, as follows:

"For many years, reaching a period prior to American occupation, San Pedro was recognized as preferable to all others by early skippers who traded in hides, etc., the produce of the country."

"The Los Angeles commissioners to develop commerce steamships which plied up and down the coast touched at that point exclusively."

"Third—When Senator Jones commented the Los Angeles and Independ-

A WORD TO HONEST DISSENTERS.

The Times does not deny that there are a few good citizens among us, not interested in or affiliated with the corporation that is fighting the free harbor, who claim that it would be foolish for us to sacrifice the present chance of obtaining a large appropriation for a government deep-water harbor even, if it is to be located at Mr. Huntington's site. We recognize the existence of these few exceptions to the rule and are willing to admit their good faith, but we must repeat that we cannot understand how any loyal citizen of Los Angeles can be willing to jeopardize the commercial prosperity of the city and surrounding country for the sake of hastening an appropriation which should have come to us before and must come to us soon if we are, only true to Los Angeles and ourselves.

If it were simply a question of choice between the two rival locations of San Pedro and Santa Monica for a harbor, there would be little need for argument on part of the people of Los Angeles. Other things being equal, it is probable that nine-tenths of our citizens would prefer Santa Monica. It is more directly in the line of the city's growth; it is popular as a favorite sea-side resort, and extending from the city to Santa Monica is one of the most attractive valleys in Southern California, already traversed by an electric road. Yet, in spite of these facts, at least nine-tenths of our citizens are deliberately opposed to the location of the government deep-water harbor at Santa Monica. Why is this? There must be some good reason for such a practical unanimity of sentiment, when a contrary opinion would be expected.

There are two good and sufficient reasons. In the first place, San Pedro has been twice indorsed as by far the best site of the two for commercial and military purposes by the United States engineers. The second and most important reason is that the harbor at Santa Monica would be under the control of a railroad corporation which has done more to retard the growth of the northern part of the State than all other causes combined, a corporation which is doing its utmost to add Southern California to the domain over which it exerts almost despotic power.

"Fourth—I favor San Pedro because the engineers board on which Col. Mendenhall, a veteran of the corps, presided, settled upon that location as was best; because a second board, consisting of five members, over which the present Chief of Engineers presides, reached a conclusion differing, it is true in detail, but substantially, in accord with that of Mendenhall.

"Fifth—Because my own judgment, after careful study and comparison with personal information, accords with the results reached by the agents of the government.

"Sixth—Because common sentiment of the intelligent community converges with the surroundings and familiar with the entire matter had determined that San Pedro is the proper place for government expansion. It is true that many good people, many business men, have recently resolved that they prefer Santa Monica to nothing, but this announcement only means that while San Pedro is in general fear of the community can obtain nothing from the government without the concurrence of Mr. Huntington."

CLEVELAND WILL RUN.

As the days go by the handwriting on the Democratic wall becomes clearer. Notwithstanding President Cleveland's repeated statement that he would not permit his name to go before the Democratic National Convention as a candidate for Presidential nomination, it is becoming more or less apparent that each statement has a strong tie to it. Then another statement went the rounds of the press, the origin of which, however, has never been traced, that President Cleveland would write a third letter reaffirming his former positive statements. That third letter has never been written. Now comes the Chicago Times-Herald and positively affirms, through its Washington correspondent, that Mr. Cleveland will, under certain conditions, accept a renomination. Here is what its correspondent says:

"I am able today to state authoritatively what the attitude of the President is concerning the nomination, and also to explain the meaning of Secretary Carlisle.

"Secretary Olney is not and will not be a candidate for President, and Secretary Whitney is not and will not be a candidate.

"The administration programme is as follows:

"First—To secure control of the convention and adopt an anti-silver platform.

"Second—To nominate Secretary Carlisle if possible.

"Third—That failing, to nominate Mr. Cleveland for a fourth time.

"The friends of Secretary Olney, ex-Secretary Whitney and of ex-Gov. Russell of Massachusetts, who, under favorable circumstances, might wish to work for the selection of their favorites, all understand that the President has arranged his plans on the lines which I have just described, and this state of affairs necessarily precludes the pressing of any other candidate from the wing of the party to which the President belongs."

This makes it easier to understand why no prominent Democrat, with the exception of Mr. Carlisle, has been mentioned as a possible candidate.

"Third—When Senator Jones commented the Los Angeles and Independ-month that Mr. Huntington can stave off the deepening of the inner harbor at San Pedro or the construction of an outer harbor at that point, means a continuance of the monopoly of traffic now enjoyed at Santa Monica, and consequently, so much clear gain for the Southern Pacific.

In order to accomplish this Mr. Huntington has been filibustering. He has injected into the Harbor Committee's report of the House of Representatives an appropriation for Santa Monica, which is a couple of editors who have been incarnadine the prairies and turning the sunflowers of the cyclone State a blood red. There is something sanguinary in the very air of Kansas. That is where, as you will remember, Mary Felt Leavenworth is at.

Lord Ronald Gower calls upon the Prince of Wales to discard the silk hat, saying on payment that "our classes are intensely snobbish and would follow the fashion adopted by a prince of the blood." It is good to know that all the snobs are not residents of New York city.

The chances are that the fishes of Buzzard's Bay are for a third term. Should Mr. Cleveland have no other occupation than mere fishing and shooting on the bat, the lives of the shiny fellows will be made & burden to him.

This accomplished, Mr. Huntington and his railway is still master of the situation, for the time being, for such of the deep-water traffic as comes to us. It is to the everlasting humiliation and disgrace of this people that the wily Huntington has been successful thus far in his dastardly design; but still more disgusting and disgraceful is it that we should have among our own people certain venal and corrupt elements which have betrayed us into the hands of the enemy, so far as they have had the capacity to do so, and have so set the community by the ears that even the most phlegmatic citizen scarcely knows where he is at.

But never mind! There will be a day of settlement. The venal crowd which has fostered ill-feeling, beguiled this people with hopes of something impossible of accomplishment, and turned traitor to the cause of right, will be come up with. When they light they will light hard, and may the Lord have little mercy on their souls!

A TIME FOR THOUGHT.

The American people will soon be called upon to decide the momentous question as to who shall preside over the destinies of this great nation for the next four years. And this question embodies also the not less important one relating to the political policy which shall control governmental affairs and the influence which the principles adopted will have upon our immediate future.

Party contest, the American people no longer regard simply as the triumph of party, but rather as the triumph of certain principles upon which the prosperity and the advancement of the country depends. Our experience during the present administration has made men thoughtful, and has led them to look below the surface of things to the great underlying facts which control party policy and determine its rule of action.

It is not so much that men are asking, shall we vote for the nominee of the Democratic party for our next President, or for the chosen leader of the Republican forces, as, what has the Democratic party done for us, and do its principles tend for the prosperity of the nation as truly as those which dominate the party of protection?

The record of the past is being surveyed with a thoughtfulness never before exhibited, by all classes of voters; the history of the achievements of the two great leading political parties is being scrutinized and compared with a thoughtfulness that will tend to multiply the intelligent votes of the next campaign, and give the majority of them to that party which is for the protection of home industries, which is the friend of the honest dollar and a sound financial system, and not to the party of free trade and a bankrupt treasury. And for this reason we look for an overwhelming Republican victory and for the ultimate choice of the people of the great apostle of protection, William McKinley, as the next President of the United States. And with McKinley at the helm we look forward to an era of renewed prosperity for the whole country, the revival of business, the gradual reduction of our national indebtedness and the triumph of those great principles which are distinctively Republican, and which have forever tended to the promotion of the nation's safety and honor.

There is no point in the removal of the harbor site to Santa Monica, why should the Huntington outfit, who should concern so persistently insist upon it? If Santa Monica hasn't a cinch concealed in it somewhere, does any sane person think for a moment that Huntington would be in favor of it? We know better! The plutocrat is not built that way. Now in constructing a deep-water harbor at San Pedro, it is the natural site for a harbor, as even the veriest novice may see by looking the ground over; but beyond that, it has been so maintained by the very highest authorities in the service of the government, after repeated surveys and inspections.

As will be seen from today's San Pedro correspondence of The Times, the citizens of San Pedro, assembled in mass-meeting, have strongly denounced the outrageous falsehoods printed in the evening Southern Pacific organ regarding the harbor meeting held at the Courthouse in Los Angeles last week.

Deliberate fabrication of facts is poor policy for a journal to pursue, even from the low standpoint of dollars and cents.

Some people are pluming themselves because Chauncey Depew paid divers and sundry "glowing tributes" to California. But that is merely Chauncey's way. He did the same thing for Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Michigan, while he was "singing" round the circle. "Our Chauncey" is nothing if not agreeable and complimentary. Chauncey is smooth!

The Cincinnati Times-Star, commenting on Mr. Carlisle's refusal to allow his name to go before the Democratic National Convention as a Presidential candidate, says: "It seems pertinent to add that the list of Democratic 'probabilities' is rapidly dwindling to one familiar name." Wonder if the first letter of his first name begins with Grover?

Kansas is again bleeding. This time it is a couple of editors who have been incarnadine the prairies and turning the sunflowers of the cyclone State a blood red. There is something sanguinary in the very air of Kansas. That is where, as you will remember, Mary Felt Leavenworth is at.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The women, as well as the men, of Orange county seem to have well-defined ideas upon horticultural and agricultural subjects. At a recent meeting of the Ebell Society in Santa Ana a score or more of valuable papers on the cultivation of various products of the soil were read that the men ought to have heard.

"Judas night" at San Juan Capistrano was improved in such fashion as to bring to mind the days when witches were said to roam the earth and make night hideous with their pranks amid the haunts of men. To lay the blame on the false disciple was both convenient and in accordance with tradition. A "Judas night" would be a pleasing variation of La Fiesta carnival.

Our San Bernardino correspondent makes an appeal for contributions to lift the mortgage on the Associated Charities' Orphans' Home in that town. The institution is strictly non-denominational and has undertaken the support of orphan children from all parts of San Bernardino county. It is to be regretted that such an institution is handicapped by a mortgage, and it is hoped the people of San Bernardino county will contribute to lift the mortgage.

Inadmissible proof of diminished production is to be had in the local oil-field. The yield of all the old wells is very much reduced, and those newly drilled do not present so favorable an appearance as did those drilled six months or a year ago. Better prices are being realized for the product, but the net returns are not so large as when production was at the best. Ordinary business perception on the part of the consumers should convince them of the fairness of the demands of producers, for even higher prices than those yet realized.

The prestige of the Golden State as a home for breeding horses whose progeny win for their owners an abundance of "elegant gilt" is well illustrated in the interesting table of figures furnished for the sporting columns of The Times by "Hidalgo," an authority upon the subject treated by him. Even with the immense disadvantage of long-haul transportation for trotters to the East, the magnificent climate of California makes it the Mecca of horsemen who have a keen eye to profit by the facilities for breeding, which this State affords in such an extraordinary measure.

The Pacific Coast is a veteran now receiving the retired pay of a second lieutenant of the regular army, who began his service for Uncle Sam as a drummer boy in the war of 1812. This pay, including the increase for long service, called "fogies," amounts to nearly $1000 annually. The veteran served in all the wars of this nation from the time he began to serve and has a fund of personal reminiscence of battles which has seldom been excelled. In the First Infantry, U.S.A., is a private who has served faithfully in that capacity for twenty-seven years. This private is the senior, for long service, of any private in the army.

Sheep-shearing in California is one of the most interesting incidents of rural life. In days gone by, once a year on all the great ranches the shearing of the flocks attracted much attention. It was the season of money-making among the Indians, who came in by hundreds and hired out with the ranchers. Their dexterity was amazing. In "Hannons" Mrs. Jackson has given a glimpse of this early custom, which survives in some parts of California even to this day. At Whittier just now the work is going on. The Indians in their picturesque employment deserve more than passing notice. If anyone desires to see California as it was fifty years ago, the opportunity afforded should not be slighted.

Southern California smokers can now enjoy cigars of excellent quality made entirely from California tobacco. These cigars come from up Santa Clara way and give evidence of possibilities in the way of cultivating a leaf that may lead the world. For the taste of some smokers the California tobacco, as at present produced, is too vigorous and lacking some of those subtle qualities which experienced smokers so highly value. It is believed that by careful experiments in growing and curing the leaf a high-grade product can be secured. The climatic influences as affecting the growth and the curing of the tobacco must be studied attentively. With increased practical experience in this matter the perfection of a valuable industry seems to be a near possibility.

The San Diego Athletic Club proposes to do its best to entertain the eastern bonfires now arriving in Southern California on their annual excursion. The club will give the hotel men a first-class fist-fight exhibition. Such pugilistic celebrities as Prof. Young Dutchy, Prof. Billy Gallagher and Prof. Kid O'Brien are interested in showing the distinguished guests from the East that along with Southern California's excellent fruits, flowers, wines, etc., the manly art of self-defense is also assiduously cultivated. Doubtless the patient hotel men will enjoy the slugging-match, which will be carried on in a highly-scientific manner. After years of being "slugged," as it were, by the taunts of woe of hotel guests, it ought to be a blessed relief to the incoming hotel men to sit in a comfortable chair and watch some one else get it "Wheele" wore the beads.

Hungry for a Fight.

John McDonald went forth on Spring street at 10 o'clock Saturday evening hungering for a fight. He accosted a hack driver, Charles McDonald, and piled copious quantities of abuse upon him. McDonald leaped down from his place and commenced to pound the fellow. A telephone message was sent to the Police Station, announcing that a story of police progress in the neighborhood of Spring and Main streets had been told. Officer Long leaped on his bicycle and sped to the scene. He met John McDonald, the drunken tough, coming down the street on a run. Officer Long left him, and the two men went to the street and grappled with the man. McDonald swore no man on earth could arrest him. Officer Long soon convinced him that he was mistaken, for he seized him and banged him flat on the back of his head on the cold, hard asphalt.

Biscailus' Turnip Soufflou.

Martin V. Biscailus is serving out the hundred-day sentence imposed upon him for embezzling Mrs. Aguilar's hard-earned $125. He is employed in the kitchen, for the jailers said to him, "If you are the other prisoners beat her corrupt their meals."

A swindling lawyer is so thoroughly versed in all the arts of delaying the course of justice, of getting out of tight places, annoying court officials and relatives, that he could not refrain from teaching the other prisoners all sorts of tricks which would make themselves so much more to be feared as criminals.

CHRIST'S WORD.

The Moral Might of a Manly Man.

Ultimate Success of the Cause of Christ.

Blessed Are the Poor in Spirit—Paul a Servant of Jesus Christ—Christianity a Knownable Religion.

The Various Churches.

Services were conducted yesterday morning by Rev. C. B. Edson of Burbank, the pastor, Rev. A. C. Smith, filling Mr. Edson's pulpit at Burbank. The congregation was large. In the evening the pastor preached upon "The Great Supper." A reader, said the speaker, is a very fitting description of the gospel of Christ. On a feast the physical nature of man finds subsistence. In the kingdom of nature and grace God provides for man's physical needs. Man's social powers find exercise at a feast. In the gospel the whole nature of social life is defined and its entire requirements set forth. The gospel of Christ is the only solution for our social disorders. The intellectual nature of man is called into requisition at men's banquets. The highest themes possible to human thinking are discussed in the gospel. No grander thoughts than God, duty and immortality have ever engaged the mind of man. They are preminent thoughts in the gospel. Man finds gladness, joy and earthly peace in his feasts. His whole nature finds satisfaction and joy in the gospel of Christ.

The gospel is called a "great" feast or supper. It was great in its author having been made by God the author having been made by the blood of Christ. It was great as an expression of grace, God having gratuitously conferred it as a blessing upon the race. It was great in the breadth of its invitation, the whole race being comprehended in it.

Then it was a prepared feast, made ready for the race by God. Before the foundation of the world, God had planned it. He used forty centuries in preparing the world for its reception. Each nation played some part in the world's preparation for the coming Christ. The world prepared the world religiously the Greeks intellectually and the Romans politically.

This feast is offered to all men everywhere without money and without price. To refuse it is to turn away from God and be expelled from His presence.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. Burt Estes Howard addressed a large congregation, choosing for the text Matt. v, 3. "Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." "Poverty has no meaning in our ordinary speech except a destitution of money. A rich man is a man so quoted in Bradstreet's or Dun. A poor man is a man without coin or property that can be converted into coin. And yet we all of us know that one may be rich in things and yet be miserably poor as a man. Or he may be absolutely penniless and at the same time rich in true manhood. It was just because we are all the time getting off on the wrong foot that makes our estimate that Jesus started His sermon on the Mount with this blessing on the poor in spirit. He was trying to teach them that the rich things are the things that are not seen, the spiritual facts of life. He found that the rich in life are not a big arena where men are everything and struggling to scrape together as much stuff as they could, and where they were trading off body and time and brain and sometimes soul for a heap of things that they had to leave before they had much opportunity to enjoy them.

He proposed to set up a kingdom in which the prevailing spirit was love and the dominant law sacrificial and love. The first thing to be done is to change the rich men as to the value of things as compared with themselves. So He shifted the definition of poverty from a mere destitution of natural things to the lack of qualities and spiritual factors that contribute to a contented and happy life. The notion of this is plain. The establishment of a kingdom of love and service in the world, where the goal of attainment is property, rather than personal soul, is an impossibility. It is just so long as we live we are measured in things and the stress of life is found in an effort to secure things, just so long will there be a selfish struggle of man against his brother. When men come to see that they are sons of God, that life is not a value in itself, the possibility to unfold into the divine; that things are of worth only as ministers to the larger, truer end of existence, then will the strife and inhumanity of man to man spring from the greed for more gold to be won, and the world of God will be set up in the earth.

Poverty of spirit, of manhood, or divine sonship, is the beggary that we take least account of, and it is the only poverty that is seriously affecting a man's soul. The man who is poor in spirit, who feels the lack of spiritual forces and attainments, has "come to himself." The man who defines poverty not by a scarcity of bonds and wealth, but by a lack of personal soul and mind and heart, has gotten to know that God's world is a moral world, and that value cannot be computed in things, but in the use of things.

This poverty of spirit, or consciousness of it, is a matter of self-realization. It is not a cause for discouragement, but for aspiration. With the consciousness of his own poverty comes the consciousness of his own possibility, and by a strange paradox, the man, a man of the world, who has lost his way in the mines of form, and color and technical skill, the more does the sense of his own lack press upon him. The higher the man thinks the mountain, the higher the peaks seem above his head. He is not satisfied with his earthly and early satisfied with its spiritual attainment misses the possibility of its being; but the man who sees himself as a child of God, and who measures the evolution of his life by his approach to the standard Jesus Christ, is in touch with all the forces that are lifting the race into that orderly and loving fellowship that God is slowly bringing to pass into the world.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN.

By request, the choir of the Central Presbyterian Church repeated the programme rendered on Easter evening. The regular choir, consisting of Mrs. E. A. Anderson, Miss Sophie Giveman, and Miss J. T. Newell, tenor, and J. D. Stevens, bass, was assisted by Miss Edna Blackwell, Miss Leone Timmons, Messrs. Charles Hayes and J. M. McPherson. The solo parts were admirably sung by Mr. Anderson and Miss Giveman. Fine piano features were the organ obbligato by Mr. E. C. Wilson and the accompaniments by Miss Anna B. Douglas. Dr. Fowler's "Thoughts of the Spring Time" were appropriate.

UNITED BRETHREN.

Rev. Clarence True Wilson occupied the pulpit of the United Brethren Church on Sunday morning, taking as his theme "Christianity a Knowledge of Religion." He said: In all probability God would refer to His own fact of their adoption. The very importance of Christian assurance is a strong presumptive proof that He has not left it out of His plan. How can we be truly happy without it? Either we are adopted or we are not. If not, the wrath of God abides on us and we are in danger of dropping off into sternly armed. What peace of mind can the Christian have with no assurance of his salvation? If under such circumstances he enjoys peace it is the peace of a frozen lake and not a natural calm. Who can believe that our Father would willingly sleep from His service when withholding it could only force us to doubt Him and distress ourselves? Of what use can we be as Christians without the conscious pardon of our own sins? It is the divine purpose that every saved soul should become a soul-saving agent. We are here to lead others to accept a present personal salvation. But how can we give to others what we do not consciously possess. We must have the experimental realities of salvation if we would win the world to Christ. Men want religious instruction only from witnesses to its saving power. Is it reasonable that God would defeat His own plan by depriving us of the one qualification for doing what we would wish to have done for here? God has also commanded us to grow in grace to be pure, to be holy. But higher attainments in the Christian life are not to be expected from those who have not attained salvation. We are in no position to see. Our salvation is that we know our sins are forgiven. It would be presumption for them to ask the highest privilege of God's children without knowing that they belong to His family. A spirit perplexed with doubts and fears is paralyzed in the service of God, more or less. God, who urges us forward, must also assure us that we are on the right road. He who demands holiness must have supplied the essential condition. FIELD OF POLITICS.

Shall Los Angeles Republicans Have a County Convention?

Political Bosses Seem to be Much Discomfited.

New York Counties Falling into the McKinley Line—Ideal Democratic Ticket—How the Betting is Going—Campaign Shots.

The following letter explains itself when read in conjunction with the resolutions adopted at the McKinley mass-meeting last Friday evening:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) April 11, 1896.

To the Congress Committee of the Sixth Congress District—Gentlemen: At a mass-meeting of Republicans held last night in this city under the auspices of the Los Angeles McKinley Club, a resolution (a copy of which is attached hereto) was unanimously adopted.

In pursuance of that resolution the undersigned, named for the purpose therein, hereby request of you that you issue as soon as possible a proper call for county conventions in each of the counties of this Congress District, upon the basis of representation fixed by the State Central Committee, such county conventions to select delegates to the State and Congress district conventions to be held at Sacramento in May.

In urging upon you this request, we undertake to say that, while we know your committee are personally responsible to the people for your acts, we still think it proper to announce that we heartily concur in the sentiments expressed in the resolution, and assure you that in our judgment a very large majority of the party in this district prefer to be called into county conventions than in Assembly district conventions.

The former method being in accord with immemorial usage, and with the party principle of fairness, while the latter method is open to the objection that it is novel, tends to confuse the rank and file of the party, and put power in the hands of a single politician, in the division of the voice, and has no feature that in any manner recommends it or compensates the loss of party prestige and enthusiasm that would be manifested at a county convention in so much larger measure than at a great number of insignificant gatherings such as have been mentioned.

As the matter is of vital interest to the party, it is also urgent, and we trust that to this request you may be able to make a favorable reply at a very early date, in order that we may be in a position to submit the same to the voters of the district in the manner provided in the resolution. Respectfully,

E. A. MILLER,
E. P. JOHNSON,
S. B. LEWIS,
T. W. BROTHERTON,
C. F. C. KLOKE.

McKinley on Top.

(St. Paul Pioneer-Press) There is a growing opinion that McKinley will be nominated for the Presidency by acclamation. This is not because the votes have been counted. For up to the present time out of the 900 delegates who are to comprise the convention, only 440 have yet been elected. Of these, 235 are for McKinley, 58 for Reed, 64 for Morton, 24 for Allison and 25 for Quay. The remaining 460 are undivided. But the popular sentiment for McKinley is so strong in the States which have still to elect delegates that it is reasonably safe to conclude that the results will represent this decided preference of the Republican voters. Moreover, the growth of the party, increasing so rapidly in volume and force, that before the conventions are held its gathered momentum will probably bear down all opposition. This means that all efforts to break the McKinley column will be in vain. The party is strong, and it is far so ahead in the race thus far that he has the prestige of success. The States which have been counted for him will be more strongly for him than ever. It is proper to say that he will go into the convention with the safe majority of the delegates. We have before us a table prepared by the New York Journal which gives him 413 votes on the first ballot, and in this table only two of Minnesota's eighteen delegates are given to McKinley. Wisconsin's are solid for him. It puts Missouri in the doubtful column, whereas all its thirty votes will be for McKinley. The correction of these two errors alone would give him 450 votes—four more than are necessary to a nomination.

McKinley Wins.

(San Francisco Bulletin) One of the evidences of McKinley's popularity is his success in States in which favorite sons present themselves. His latest victory is in Kentucky, where Gov. Bradley represents the favorite son idea. The McKinley men claim 123 delegates to the State convention to 78 for Bradley. This claim may be found excessive, but the Bradley men admit that McKinley has a majority. Davis of Missouri perceived the strength of the McKinley side and quietly stepped aside. Pennsylvania is held for Quay by the forces of the machine, but there is doubt if it can be transferred to another candidate. At date McKinley seems to be the man.

Rival Chafers.

(Cleveland World) Although the friends of other candidates have deemed it necessary to assist Mr. McKinley, it is probably only because they are desperate. If they were as sure as they assume to be either that he will be defeated at St. Louis or one of the "favorite sons" chosen in their states they would not think it worth their while to defame or undermine him.

However this may be, the friends of Mr. McKinley are not afraid to say that any one of the other candidates for the nomination is worthy of it, and that if any of them were selected the Republican party would have no reason to regret it. Some, of course, have different elements of strength and popularity, but none of them are greater than the others. His party wants him more than it wants all the others put together. In this country of popular choice, that is a title to the throne as sacred and potent than all the European thrones, divine rights, traditions, royal missions of objects and the royal recognition of contemporary sovereigns. The man who has better claims to the Presidential succession than the eldest son of McKinley is the last successor to imperial crowns. McKinley has all the head that is set upon his competitors.

Discomfited Bosses.

(San Francisco Evening Post) The rumor current in Washington that Bosses Quay and Platt, owners respectively of the Republican machine in Pennsylvania and New York, intend shortly to declare that McKinley must be the iridescent dream of some friend of the Ohio candidate at the capital, but it is more than likely that it is an inspiration derived from the inside. Indeed, it is quite probable that the movement of the two men, in the opinion of the press, is the coming condition that McKinley will not hesitate at any means of getting over the wall and into his camp. There is no sentiment about them. They are practical politicians and it is their business "get them as far as possible."

Quay and Platt have a Republican machine in the two States, named which seems to be about as tractable as a combination was ever created. A State convention with them is merely a means of flattering the public and registering their political process. It has been plain ever since the Presidential canvass began that they were intent on extending their operations over a much wider area. They look to New Hampshire and Massachusetts into which they command the construction of a machine which, if it is not conceived, would be sufficient strong at St. Louis to either nominate the President or dictate terms to the man who happened to be too strong to be defeated.

But the West has seemed to sit on the fence, and the machine has been knocked out of some states where. It even invaded their own States and came near knocking them out. Their cut-and-dried programmes were missed by the galleries, the newspapermen, the dailies, and they had to sit up nights working at local and machine from going to pieces. What is more natural now that McKinley is perfectly certain to become the candidate in spite of them, for them to tender the "glad hand," and give three cheers for Ohio. What old flag and the others. There is one, however, for which Mr. McKinley ought not to pardon them. A few days ago he charged him with making a "sack" fight. For this they ought to get the political garrote.

Not Really a Candidate.

(Portland, Or. Evening Telegram) Quay's alleged candidacy continues to furnish much of the news element of the Republican preliminary campaign. All intelligent observers understand that with Quay as the Presidential candidate the Republican party could not hope to win a single State in the Union, with the possible exception of Pennsylvania, and even that strong candidate would be much doubtful by the disclosures of such an amazing freak of idiocy as his nomination would imply. Moreover, all intelligent observers know as well as they do that the pretense that he is not has no other aim or purpose than to afford him a contingent in the convention which may be trade for party power. He delivered on his order after the elect on the 10th of June affair, a graceful perversions of power to serve a selfish and dishonest purpose, and is to be earnest because it was sprouting by the disclosures of the "mason."

Fallen Into Line.

(New York Tribune) One of the latest recruits to the great McKinley army is the Poughkeepsie Star, which has been a rampant Platt-Morton organ.

It breaks loose entirely from the machine, declares Gov. McKinley to be the choice of the tenth of the Republicans.

It is a very pitiful and pitifully affected The Eagle, which is Platt's morning organ in Dutchess county. The Eagle has been clamoring for Morton as much as any of the other papers, but its riv-

A Campaign Joke.

(Chicago Times-Herald) The Presidential campaign now and then gives rise to some new phrase or expression characteristic of the American people. Today in New England Congressmen are talking to the delegation from his State to the St. Louis convention. THE EVE OF BATTLE.

An Omious Calm Before the Momentous Day.

The review of the forces on the eve of Pasadena's political battle points to indications of Republican victory and the "parting shot" of the campaign, as fired in the Tabernacle Saturday night, where "reform" was urged, in the same breath in which orators declared that they found nothing reprehensible in Pasadena's government in the past, and had no fault to find with the candidates or the policies of the strange ticket averse to have widely missed its mark in many particulars.

It was not considered in the best taste for men who are heavy stockholders in the citizens' organization to ridicule on the platform the Republican's program and challenge its truthfulness without producing proof of its falsity, and the latter was not done. The fact that five out of the six candidates are stockholders in the citizens' organization and that they were all on the platform as though an attempt was being made to advertise gratuitously the citizens' organization, "was smilingly visible in the front row, approvingly applauding the proceedings."

Some of the old soldiers who were present took umbrage at the unrebuked statement of the "culled" orator that the negro owed nothing to the Republican party, and that it was the party that it was no longer fit to be by the party, freed you from slavery." Some Methodists, also, who were present, were not especially pleased that such a declaration should take place on the very spot where the best representatives of Methodism and the church militant, fought to free the black man, have stood.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

A billiard tournament is in progress at the Bodega Billiard hall and is attracting considerable attention. The local experts are contesting, forty-five games to be played each player having a game with each contestant. Games are of 100 points, with as low handicap as eighty points for less skillful knight of the cue. The prizes are three fine cutters, as well as a half dozen cups.

COLORED SOCIETY SHOCKED.

The strongest candidate on the citizens' ticket appears to be Heman Dyer.

It was announced from the platform that A. R. Metcalfe was the only one present as a candidate for the cause which he was elsewhere doing better work.

It develops that Mr. Metcalfe was at the meeting of the Democrats but instead of endorsing the citizens' ticket, as was his duty, "the better work" for the cause was done by Mr. Campbell Ford, W. H. B. Armitte, June Freeman, George P. Kinney, C. M. Rupp, Ed Butt, J. C. Adams, James Ragdale, Los West and John Hall.

At the drive about the city which has been arranged by the committee for the visitors, will confer a favor by leaving their names with the secretary of the Board of Trade, F. P. Boyce, at the board rooms on West Colorado street. At least 150 carriages will be needed.

LEAP YEAR QUADRILLE.

An Art Gallery That Was a Complete Surprise.

The W.R.C. of John Godfrey Post G. A.R. held its regular monthly social at G.A.R. Hall Saturday night, and it was one of the most enjoyable of this season's series of socials given by that organization. A leap-year quadrille and the "Virginia reel" were features of the evening's amusement. Music was furnished by the Crown City Quartette, and their singing was grandly joyous. Miss Estelle Gifford, a solo singer, and Capt. Schreider of the Sons of Veterans also favored the company with vocal music.

An "Art Gallery" was the center of attraction. Among the works of art exhibited was the following: "The Horse Fair," being a sample of a baled hay; "The Lay of the Last Minstrel," an eke; "Love's Surprise," a mitten; "Monuments of Greece," a tallion; "The Switch-tender," a half-pint; "The Salmon Fish," a match; a bowl of water; "The Old Soaker," a dilapidated sponge; "A View of Long Branch," an apricot limb several feet in length. These and many other "gems of art" were shown, the "private view" of the "master-pieces" being the occasion of much hilarity. There was a large attendance.

Welcome the Hotel Men.

The train that will leave Pasadena Tuesday at 8 a.m. will carry a plenteous supply from Pasadena of good things for the Hotel Association, which is to be met at Barstow and convened right royal and in grand style.

Among these "good things" will be 145 large baskets of roses and bouquets, half a carload of palm branches, fests of roses and vines, and lilies and other flowers for the decoration of the train carrying the Hotel Association. Hampers and baskets without number of those things that "cheer the inner man" will also go along, enough food in quantity to feed a hundred regiments and tempting enough in quality for the most delicate palate.

These hospitable preparations were made by Walter Haymond and J. H. Holmes, members of the Hotel Association, the flowers and decorations being furnished from Raymond Hill, Hotel Row Park and private grounds about the city. An extra basket car has been entirely filled with this advance guard of hospitality, and the bonfires will find in Pasadena when they come here on Friday, "more of the same sort."

The Woodmen Social.

The Woodmen of the World gave an enjoyable social and dance at Knights of Pythias Hall Friday night, which was attended by about three hundred members and guests. The hall was magnificently decorated, and frieze of fan palms arranged about the sides of the apartment, while the platform was banked with callas and roses. A most enjoyable programme, consisting of orchestra, violin, piano, and vocal music, address and recitation, was rendered, and dancing was then indulged in. La Fiesta Camp, No. 62, of Los Angeles, sent a large number of representatives, and the entertainment is counted among the most successful lodge affairs of the season.

Death of Thomas F. Fuller.

Thomas F. Fuller died at his late residence, No. 359 North Los Robles avenue, at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Fuller came to Pasadena some years ago from Detroit, and located on North Los Robles avenue. About three years ago he was the victim of a fall, which he met with severe injuries, his arm being broken in two places, and multiple wounds about the head. An internal injury was also received at that time which was the final cause of his death. Deceased was 62 years of age, and leaves a wife, Mrs. Merritt Hitt, Los Angeles; Dr. Merritt Hitt, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray, Cairo, Ill.; Mrs. Elizabeth Gratefend, San Francisco, and W. Gray, Grayville, Ill., left last evening, after a very enjoyable sojourn at the Alpine Tavern for several days.

The New Hotel Project.

The Grand View Hotel project will be pushed to completion rapidly as possible, and every indication points to the probability that the west side of Pasadena, the choicest residence section of the city, will soon possess a handsome new hotel, surrounded with beautiful grounds, and commanding a superb view of the mountains, foothills and San Gabriel Valley. Some preliminary negotiations were begun, and in the latter part of the month an option was secured upon the property for a given time, 10 per cent of the purchase price being paid. F. F. GALLARDO PAYS SANTA ANA A BRIEF VISIT.

He Claims an Interest in the Rancho Santiago de Santa Ana — The Spanish "Judas Night" — News Notes and Personals.

SANTA ANA, April 12.—(Regular Correspondence.) F. F. Gallardo, the time-honored friend of Charles E. Huse of Highland, who has been in the asylum there for several years, and over whom there have been so much said recently about his reported false imprisonment, was in Santa Ana last week, and with his coming appears a story, which, if true, means a great deal to the property-owners in the valley and in near Santa Ana.

Mr. Gallardo claims that he owns a portion of Rancho Santiago de Santa Ana; that he has a deed for it which was confirmed by the United States Supreme Court in 1884. According to Mr. Gallardo's statements he purchased one-half interest of Maria Yorba, daughter of Theodosia Yorba, in the ranch in 1887, and that subsequently when the suit in partition of the land was brought before Judge Morrison of Los Angeles, he refused to appear in court, and gave as his reason that Judge Morrison had no authority in the premises, as the title to the property was at that time being considered by the Supreme Court. He claims he still holds the deed to the interest which he had taken into his name.

He announces his intention now of bringing suit soon in the United States Circuit Court at Carson, Nev., for partition. The daughter of Theodosia Yorba, of whom he purchased his interest, is Mrs. Marie L. Dutton, at present married to Mr. John Dutton, who has been a resident of Santa Ana for many years past a resident of Santa Ana. In 1888 Mr. Gallardo went to Nevada, he left the deed for this land with Mr. Huse, at Santa Barbara, and made him his trustee, but on account of Huse's later giving the deed into the hands of his enemies, he was compelled to go to Los Angeles, where Gallardo distributed, he took the trusteeship from Huse, and has since held the deed himself. He says his title to the land, which he believes entitles him to 6000 acres, is recorded book 14 of deeds, page 140, 151, records of Los Angeles county, and expresses no fear of the laws of limitation, which would have outlawed his case long ago.

While here Mr. Gallardo related another incident in the mind of an old-time friend just after his arrival in Santa Ana, who told him of the location of an unusually rich gold mine in Santa Barbara county on the Los Pintos ranch, of which he owns a one-half interest, purchased by him a little over nineteen years ago from Dr. Richard E. Hollister, who died in Los Angeles a year ago.

From here Mr. Gallardo went back to San Bernardino, where, on April 10, he appeared in court, as well as for his old friend Huse, whom he is trying to bring back from the asylum on the grounds that he has been falsely condemned by his enemies. Dr. Hollister of Santa Ana has been subpoenaed as a witness in this case.

A SORT OF SPANISH HALLOWEEN.

A correspondent from San Juan Capistrano writes as follows to the Orange County Herald of a custom among the Spaniards that seems to much resemble the American hallowe'en. The Spaniards, or Mexicans, call it "Judas' Night" from the character of the mischievous depredations the name it seems, is well selected:

On Friday night of last week one might have closed his eyes and imagined himself in a pale moonlight. The party of西班牙人 (the young Spaniards and not a few old ones) broke out in unrestrained torrents of energetic throat exercise, sly tricks, and every species of earthly noise known to the art of the racket producer. The celebration was in honor of Judas, and is called "Judas' Night." An effigy of the traitor himself is constructed by stuffing castaway garments, after which he is put in some public place and thereafter becomes the recipient of every indignity that ingenuity can devise. He is made ready for an execution, and his ridiculous enemy those to play (and they are by no means few) Most prominent of these is the theft of the farmers' rolling stock; every vehicle for miles around is spattered away and wheeled into line near the old mission. The processions, by the way, are a motley crowd and came in all sorts of rigs with their families, who are living in tents while the men do the shearing.

It is something wonderful to watch one of those fellows catch a sheep and set him down on his haunches and, beginning at his neck, deprive him of his woolly coat in a jiffy. They usually get 5 cents per head for their work and some of them will make $2 or $3 per sheep.

A rather odd runaway occurred in town on Thursday last. Mr. Beck was driving a cart behind which was attached a young cow that he was leading. The same being secured tied with a rope to the cart. The driver stopped in front of a store, leaving his rig, went in. While in the store the horse became frightened and ran away, very much to the consternation of the bovine who had not been in the store for some time. The horse turned across a bare field and the unwitting cow set her heels in the ground so lustily that the horse became tired of dragging the dead weight and stopped of his own accord before any damage was done, causing the feet of the cow were roughly ruffed at such an unlock-for-burst of speed.

Allen Barnett and his wife left yesterday for their bee ranch in the mountains, returning to San Diego. They gathered some dust along the way, which they brought into Whittier. The crowd were in for a treat: Bert Dunlap, Capt. Chappelar, Mr. and Mrs. Hinds, Dr. Smith, S. G. Ball, Miss Swain, Miss Ladd, Miss M. Johnson, Miss Egan, Miss Stanford and Mrs. Lovell. On their return they gave this town a good going over amid the loud blast of the bugle. The tall boy was drawn by six large gray horses that came out from Los Angeles for the occasion.

The Rinchito baseball team played the Whittier team on Saturday, coming out ahead, 27 to 13.

(Anahiem Independent) — Camarillo may be seen again wild on the east bank of the San Joaquin California Railroad near Anahiem. The plant has a long leaf and a large bunch of seed on top of the stem.

Mrs. E. D. Benedict and Mrs. F. J. Brown, who have been visiting friends in Santa Ana, in vicinity for several months, departed a few days ago for their home in Kansas.

The annual inspection of Co. L. N. G.C. of Santa Ana will be held Monday evening of this week in Armory Hall under the direction of Maj. Doss and Gen. Harrison, G.C.A.

The Vice has returned to Santa Ana from a visit with relatives and friends in Missouri. He will probably locate permanently in Pomona.

SAN PEDRO.

Citizens Repudiate False Reports on the Harbor Question.

SAN PEDRO, April 12.—(Regular Correspondence.) A mass-meeting of citizens was held here last evening for the purpose of taking action on the harbor question. There was a good attendance, considering the shortness of the time in which the meeting had been called. The gathering was called to order by City Attorney Siegert, and George C. Brown was chosen chairman and J. Levy was named as secretary. Several vice-presidents were appointed.

When the meeting had thus been organized, Mr. Siegert, after a short speech, presented the following and adjourned the meeting.

"Whereas, the Los Angeles Evening Express, has through its columns, by reason of false misrepresentations and malicious journalistic lying, endeavored to create false impressions in relation to the free harbor question, and in the Evening Express of the evening of April 8, 1896, and whereas, the aforesaid evening paper has sent forth through its columns statements which are in themselves a tissue of monstrous falsehoods, be it resolved,

"Resolved, that we, the citizens of San Pedro in mass-meeting assembled, denounce the false statements contained in the Evening Express in relation to the aforesaid free harbor meeting, as false, untrue and unworthy of the credit and belief of the fair and honest citizens of Southern California; and we call upon all loyal citizens of San Pedro, to condemn the action of the aforesaid Evening Express, and urge upon our own people to pull together, we have an example of what unanimity of purpose when rightly directed can accomplish for a young city. Even the blind man need not be told that we refer to Los Angeles. We want a little Los Angeles here, where the rich men take hold, and the men of more moderate means must back them up."

CARLSON'S RAILROAD SCHEME CREDITED TO HUNTINGTON.

Officers and Stockholders of the Citizens' Traction Company.

Young McCarthy's Condition is Serious.

SAN DIEGO, April 12.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Hon. William H. Carlson, Mayor, is away from home. Accordingly press dispatches begin to tell where he is. This time it is Denver. As president of the Southern California and Salt Lake Railroad Company William is alleged to have arranged for the reorganization of the Nevada Southern road. Isaac E. Blake will be elected president, William H. Carlson vice-president, and J. W. Jackson of Denver will be a director. A few weeks ago William claimed that he would buy out the Nevada Southern road for about $75,000. He also claimed that $400,000 would be needed. Mr. Blake says William has some sort of a deal on which to base his redemption proceedings. Mr. Carlson is supposed to be merely the tool of railroad schemers, presumably of Collis P. Huntington and that gang. The young Mayor is utterly of insufficient means personally to carry on railroad operations on his own account. The citizens of San Diego are anxious about the future of the city, and are dismally of foolishness. Only as the agent of the Southern Pacific do people give any serious thought to Carlson's movements.

LOS ANGELES THE MODEL.

The Vidette, in commenting on the improving commercial outlook in San Diego, says: "It would be well if we had more men like Messrs. Marston, Speers, Cragan and a few others we could not find. Mr. Marston has faith in the future of San Diego, and why should he construct a large building which future generations will point to as a monument of the genius and foresight of a man who believed in his own city? What is now needed is San Diego to do for our own people to pull together."

"Whereas, the Los Angeles Evening Express, has through its columns, by reason of false misrepresentations and malicious and dishonest, and unworthy of honest and dispassionate journalism; and we further urge upon each and every citizen of San Pedro, to withdraw his patronage from the aforesaid Evening Express, and urge upon our own people to pull together, we have an example of what unanimity of purpose when rightly directed can accomplish for a young city.
